1.0 INTRODUCTION

Introduction

The District of Saanich worked with a signage consultant to address wayfinding signage throughout all recreation centres and golf clubhouse.

The duration of this initiative lasted five months with the consultant from October 2020 to early March 2021 and concluded with edits by Saanich Recreation staff and marketing graphic designer.

The consultant documented and analyzed the existing signage and best practices for wayfinding.

This project was identified in the Saanich Older Adults Strategy created in 2017. Its implementation will assist older adults, and patrons of all ages and language abilities, with easier wayfinding and welcoming environments.

TERRITORIAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
We acknowledge that the District of Saanich lies within the territories of the lək'ʷəŋən peoples represented by the Songhees and Esquimalt Nations and the W̱ SÁNEĆ peoples represented by the W̱ JOŁEŁP (Tsartlip), BOḰEĆEN (Pauquachin), STÁUTW̱ (Tsawout), W̱ SIḴEM (Tseycum) and MÁLEXEŁ (Malahat) Nations.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT
We are committed to celebrating the rich diversity of people in our community. We are guided by the principle that embracing diversity enriches the lives of all people. We all share the responsibility for creating an equitable and inclusive community and for addressing discrimination in all forms.

Objectives

The primary objective of this new wayfinding strategy is to improve the ease of navigation throughout all recreation centres and golf clubhouse using the following methods:

- establishing a consistent system of signs throughout five facilities,
- improving the location of placement and visibility of signs,
- improving the ease in which all patrons can navigate through a Saanich facility,
- improving the recognizability and legibility through the use of pictograms, colour scheme, wording, and directional arrows,
- prioritizing of information given to reduce overcrowding of signs,
- respond to the demographics of patrons using the recreation centres and golf clubhouse,and
- creating an uplifting, inviting, and active environment.

Site evaluation

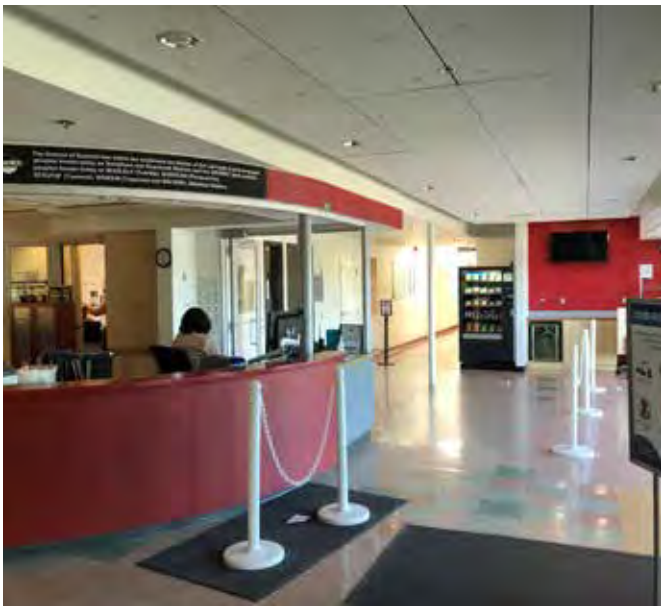
Documentation and evaluation of all existing signage helped to determine a new direction for wayfinding based on the findings.

The main focuses for this wayfinding study are:

- entrance zones,
- foyer and reception,
- transititon corridors such as hallways and staircases,
- door and directional signage,
- information boards, and
- existing aspects of recognition, inclusion and diversity.

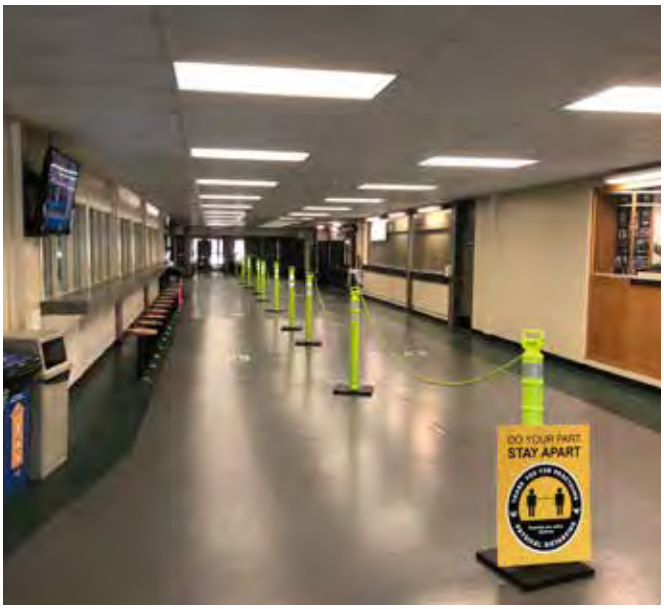
Entrance zones

Small glass-mounted door stickers feature the Saanich brand and name of the facility. Large Identification signs are absent.



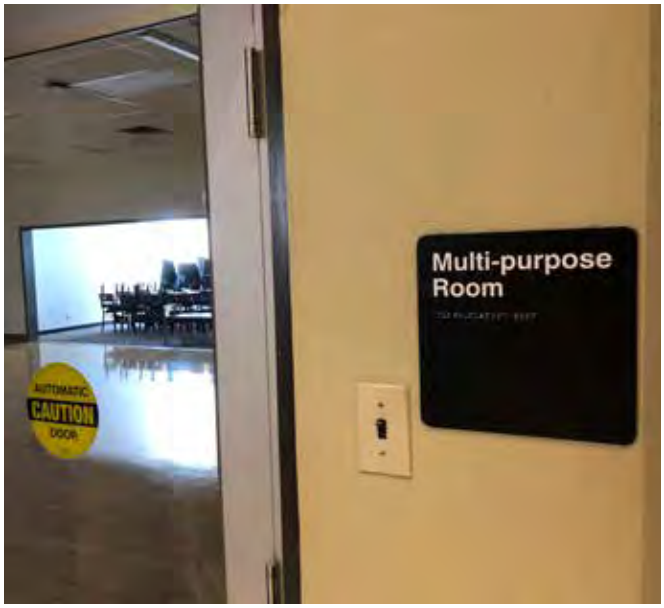
Reception desk

In most instances reception desks are not marked as such. Welcome messages are limited to a First Nations territory acknowledgement sign.



Hallways and staircases

Hallways and staircases in many cases don't feature consistent and visible wayfinding. Washroom access signs are small and not visible from a distance.



Room signage

Room signage based on the “white type on black” sign schedule is subtle and neutral. This homogenous sign system forces the visitor to read text only (except for washroom access).

Information boards

There are a variety of information boards from a number of sign initiatives. Some contain elements of the recent Saanich branding style guidelines. Unifying these messages under one style would be advisable.

Directional signage

Sparse directional signage is installed overhead. The white type on black doesn't create enough contrast to other architectural and interior design elements (black or grey door frames and white walls).

Styles and methodologies are inconsistent as a "patch-style" approach to areas that reflect a particular wayfinding challenge. In general there needs to be more strategically placed directional information to main destinations.

Recognition, inclusion and diversity

Initiatives of recognition, inclusion and diversity are limited to multilingual door WELCOME decals and a First Nations territories recognition sign in the entrance zone of each centre.

Findings & suggested improvements

Below are our findings and suggested improvements based on site inspection and documentation of existing signage and access conditions.

FINDINGS	SUGGESTED IMPROVEMENTS
Can't see the signs due to low contrast to their environment.	Create lively colourful signs that stand out and are interesting to look at.
Too many pictograms at an equal level and same size on one sign make it hard to understand the meaning of the sign.	Create hierachies of information and limit the number of pictograms per sign.
Many different "generations" of signage throughout a recreation centre.	Create one consistent signage system.
Service notes, temporary signage (aside from Covid-related signs).	Eliminate clutter as much as possible.
Signs are not legible from the distance.	Improve legibility through highly visible and legible signs.
Entrance zones don't provide orientation. Visitors rely on asking registration desk staff.	Develop wayfinding maps.
Limited gender inclusion equal access.	Improve all-gender access through signage and awareness campaigns.
Inconsistent approach to wayfinding.	Develop a consistent approach and design.

IMPORTANT

All signs proposed in this wayfinding document have been developed based on findings and discussions between October 2020 - March 2021. All designs, content, and placement will need to reviewed, updated (if required) before fabricating and installing the actual signs.

2.0 SIGNAGE ELEMENTS

Signage categories / purpose

This wayfinding signage system is broken down into a number of categories each with a unique purpose.

Welcome

Welcome

Signs and/or decals bring attention to an entrance area and/or reception desk.

Orientation

A wayfinding map in the entrance zone provides an overview of facilities and how to get to each of them.

Directional

Directional signs provide guided access to an activity destination. Most directional signs a mounted wall- or ceiling suspended.

Identification - wall decals

Large wall decals support activity related messages.

Identification

Identification signs inform about the arrival at the location of an activity.

Warning / Information

Warning and information signs provide detailed messages about etiquette, safety, rules, and services.

Regulatory

Directional signs provide guidance to inaccessible areas for visitors vs. staff.

Colours

The District of Saanich Visual Identity Program was used to create the signage colour families.

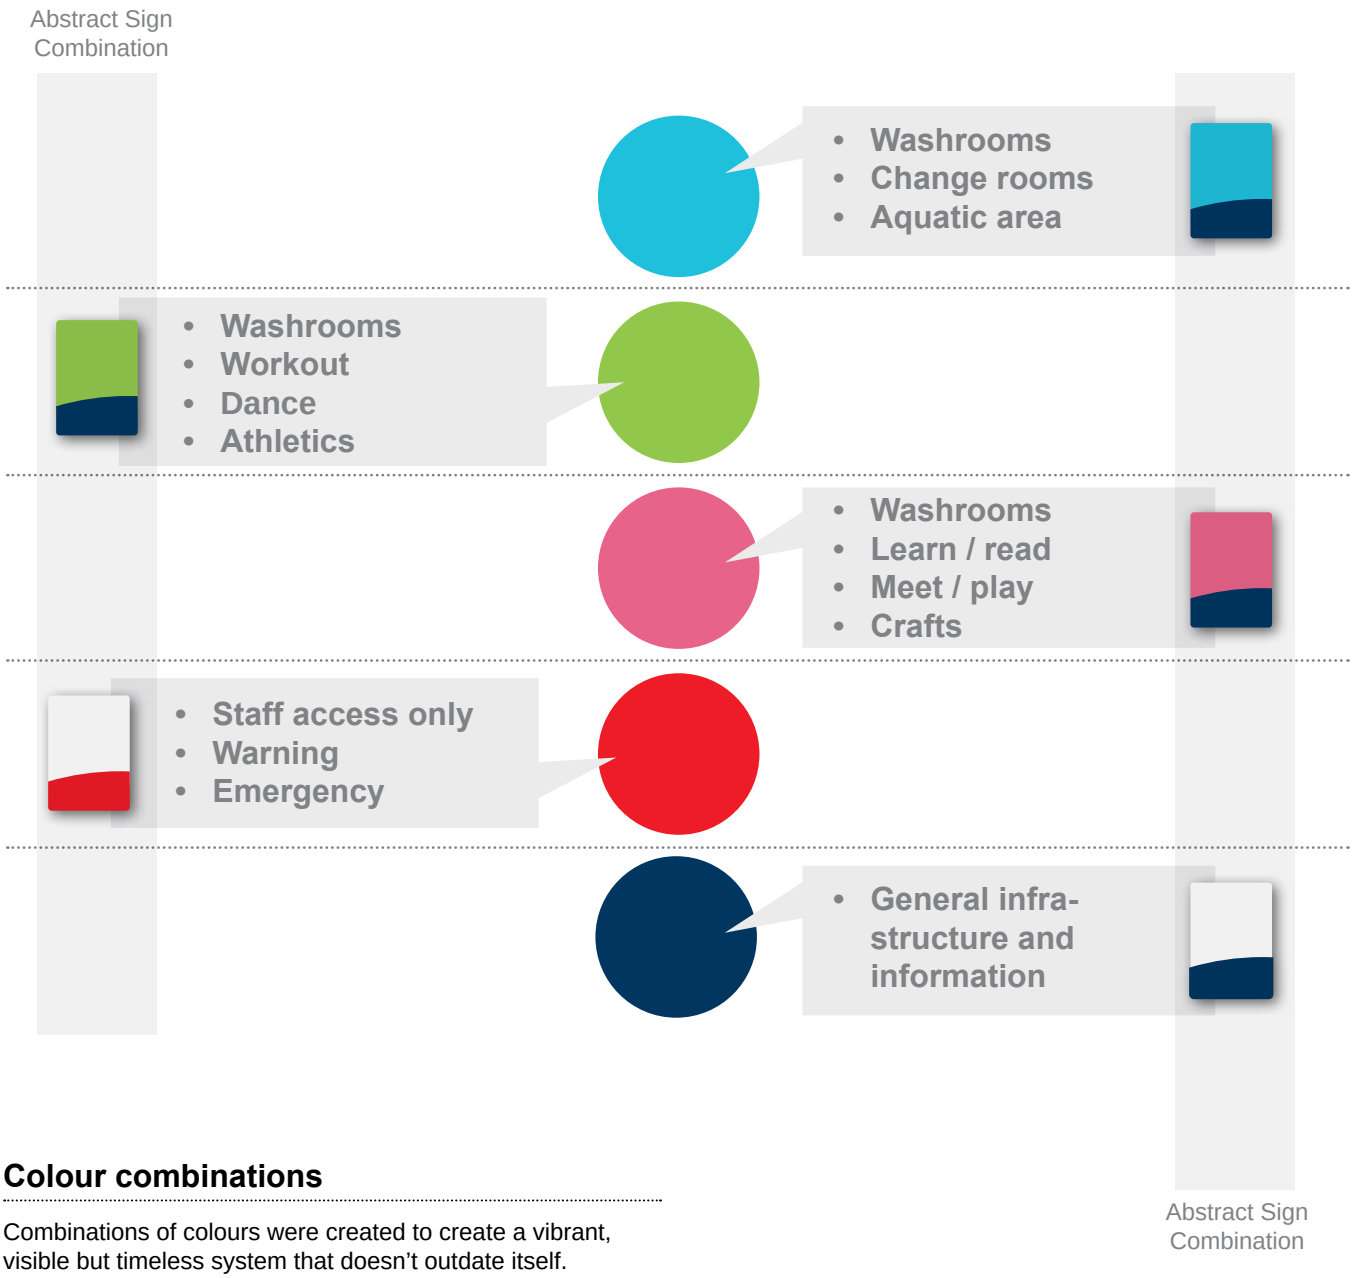
Colour representation / combinations



Colour combinations

Combinations of colours were created to create a vibrant, visible but timeless system that doesn't outdate itself.

Typography

All signage elements use the typeface Arial as specified in the District of Saanich Visual Identity Program (VIP).

Arial Regular

abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvxyz
ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
1234567890?!()*&^%$#@

Arial Bold

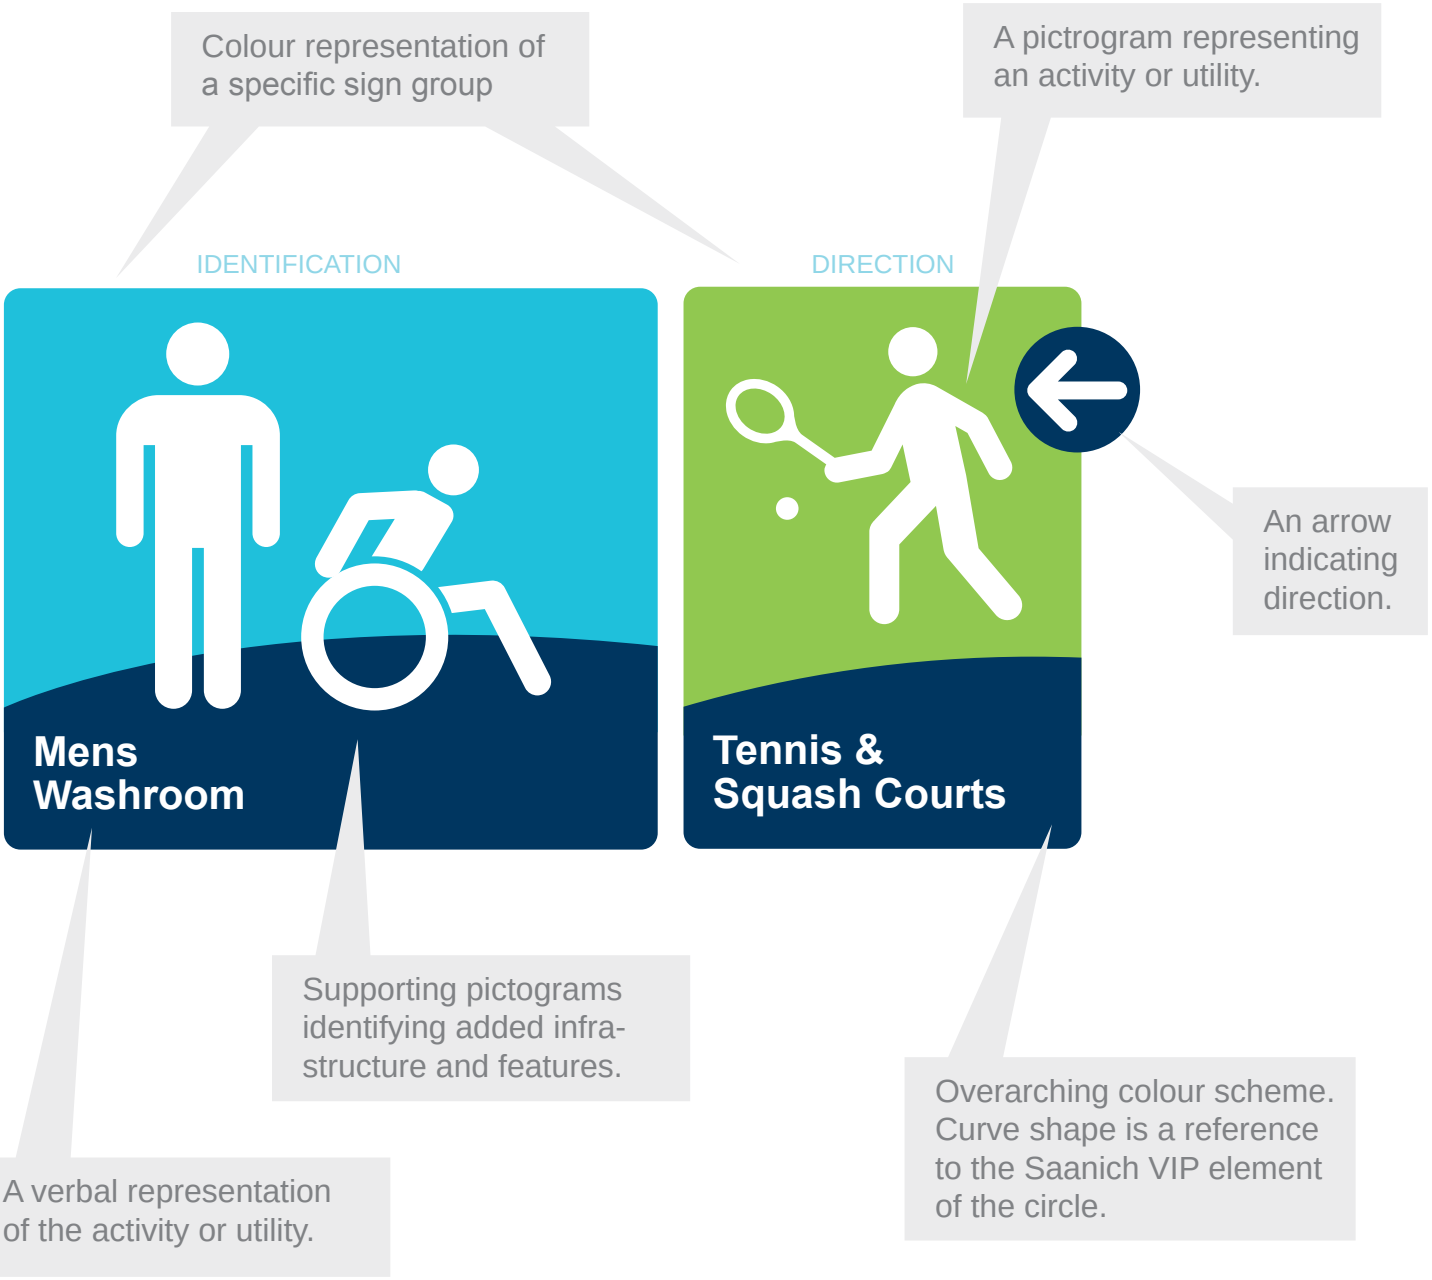
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvxyz
ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
1234567890?!()*&^%$#@

Maintaining VIP consistency

Arial as a typeface is utilitarian and timeless with high legibility from a distance and highly applicable for this signage application.

A typical sign

All signs are made up of various elements each fulfilling a specific function.



Simplicity = legibility

Accessibility & inclusion

District of Saanich public facilities are accessible and inclusive environments. The following signage and supporting programs reflect that.

1. Signage

Within the District of Saanich, recreation centres have both universal washrooms and gender specific washrooms. The number of changerooms, washrooms and shower areas require a variety of accessibility signage.

Accessibility is represented by the person in a wheelchair pictogram as a supporting sign element.

Change table facilities are represented by the “baby in diaper” pictogram as a supporting sign element.

2. Braille

Braille features can be added to specific signs (especially in hallways). Clear braille sticker bands can be added to the lower right portion of the signs as desired.

3. Universal washrooms and changerooms

Where applicable a gender neutral pictograph of a toilet will be used to indicate all gender washrooms.

For changerooms the pictograph of male, female, accessibility and baby will be used to indicate that the changerooms have amenities for all genders, ages and abilities.

Additional suggestion: For inclusion, signage is only effective to a certain point. A sticker, social media and print campaign could be used to educate the public and highlight that Saanich Recreation Centres are all genders welcome facilities. The goal is to achieve a welcoming environment for everyone.

4. Territorial acknowledgement and Saanich diversity statement

Each centre currently posts a territorial acknowledgement sign and Saanich Diversity Statement. This Strategy does not address these signs. They will remain in place as is.

A Saanich Diversity Strategy is planned for 2022. This would be an indepth project that would include research, review and public engagement from the LGBTQ2, First Nations, English Language learners, new immigrants and refugees and community members.

Directional elements & pictograms

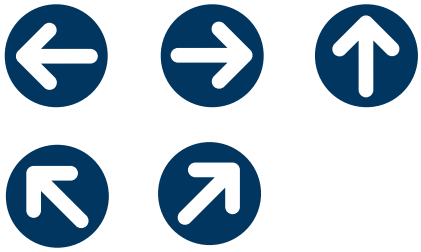
Directional elements consist of a simple white arrow in a Royal Blue circle.

All pictograms are based on the International Pictogram Standard.

Arrows

A white arrow on a Royal Blue circle is added to the top left or rigth corner of a sign to indicate the specific direction of a facility.

All directional signs feature a directional arrow.



Pictograms

A selection of pictograms based on the International Pictogram Standard is used throughout the wayfinding signage system.

Wayfinding maps

Wayfinding maps can be free-standing or wall-mounted installations in the entrance zones of all recreation centres. This may reduce direction-related questions for the reception staff.

Colour-coding by activity

As per colour guide on previous pages activities are colour-coded throughout the map. Some pictograms are used for the main features of the facility to aid in finding the visitors initial location and a sense in which direction to go.

Access corridors are indicated in a dark grey. Dashed-lined black arrows indicate access to main areas.

Inaccessible areas to the public are greyed out in a light grey.

Examples of all wayfinding map artwork shown in Section 6.0.

3.0 TRAFFIC FLOW ANALYSIS

Traffic flow

Traffic flow analysis underlines wayfinding signage planning. The goal is to determine:

- main and secondary traffic corridors,
- key decision making points,
- main facility features, and
- key access points.

SIGN PLACEMENTS AND DIMENSIONS

Sign placement

Proper sign placement is crucial for signs to be accessible and legible. The following graphs show the various mounting methods.

Door / wall mount

This graph shows how signs are mounted on a wall or door.

Doors mounts should be centred on the door and at the same height as wall mounts.

Wall- and ceiling-suspended mount

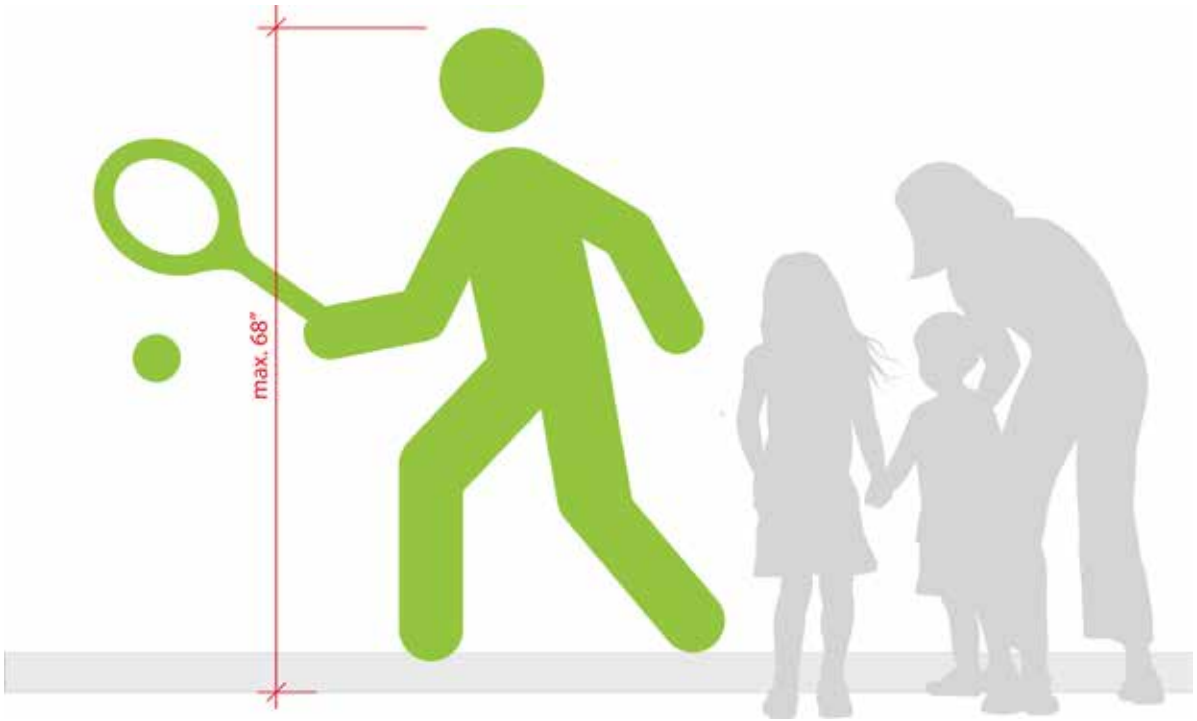
This graph shows how signs are mounted against a wall or from a ceiling.

Note the minimum distance between signs.

Decal wall mount

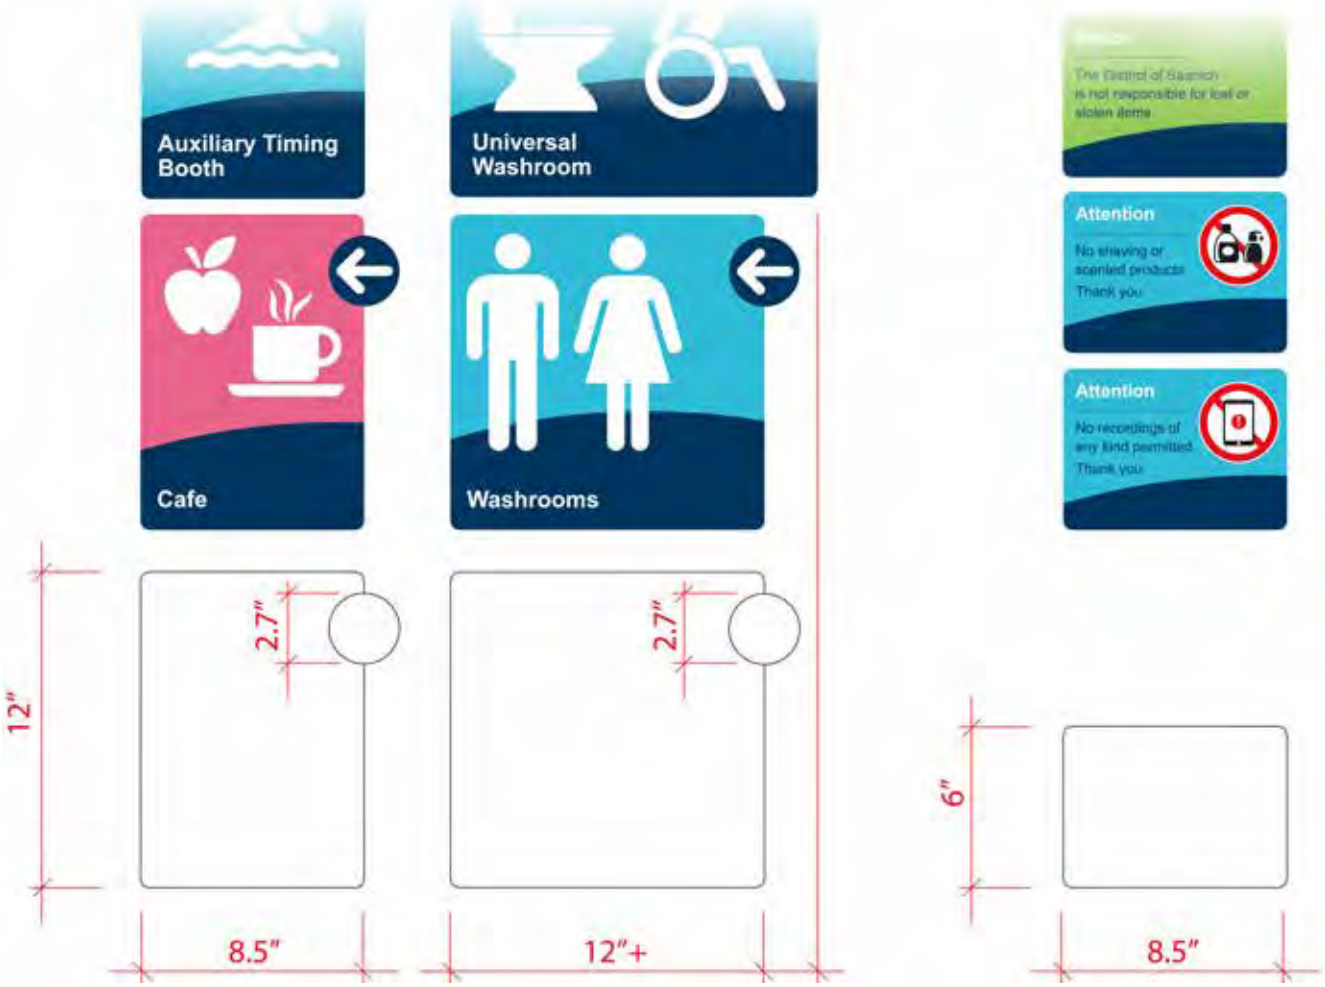
This graph shows how decals can be mounted on a wall.

Note the maximum height of a decal.



Dimensions

The selected sign dimensions are optimized for fabrication. We retained certain dimensions throughout except for larger information boards.



Type a

All regular door and ceiling signs.

Arrow is output separately and glued to the sign surface.

Type b

For all extended width door signs.

Arrow is output separately and glued to the sign surface.

Type c

For all notice signs.

Production

Please confirm (and revise as required) all sign content shown in these guidelines. Check for onsite mounting requirements. Ensure that installation area is sealed off to the public and that installation crew adheres to safety protocols
