

SAANICH HORTICULTURAL DISPLAYS

Every year Horticulture staff produce designs for our 36 seasonal display beds. In 2015 Parks Worker Lindsay LaFontaine designed some of the plantings at Saanich Commonwealth Place for Horticulturalist Dave Ord. Here is the design she proposed for the beds at the totem pole in front of the facility.

On June 5, 2015, Lindsay and some co-workers planted the beds using a combination of plants overwintered in our greenhouse along with annuals purchased from a local supplier.

Here is a view from the front of the display.

And here is the planting on July 15, 2015, with the plants well grown in providing a lush display welcoming visitors to one of our busiest facilities.
